

© Simon Green – Only correct

New variant CPD

Say the Teachers' Creed.

I believe in The Department, Creator of quality, standards and efficiency on earth; and in Ofsted, its only Son, who was conceived by the mysterious actions of ministers, born of the Tory Party, suffered teachers to come unto it, crucified them, and they descended into hell.

On the Thursday, under New Labour, Ofsted ascended into heaven, and sitteth at the right hand of The Department, from thence it shall come to judge the living and the dead on their feet.

I believe in the National Curriculum, school performance tables and SATs, the forgiveness of spin, the resurrection of the shoddy, and assessment everlasting. Amen.